MINI SWEET PEPPERS

Bring Snacking to a Whole New Level

Mini Sweet Peppers are small peppers that resemble hot peppers, although they have no heat and a sweet flavor. They take as long to mature as regular Bell peppers, but their size and taste sets them apart. Since they're miniature, mini sweet peppers are a perfect appetizer or snacking food item that adds convenience for consumers. Sweeter than traditional bell peppers, mini sweets can also be used in cooking, and are a great complement to spicy dishes. In addition to being a great healthy snacking and cooking option, bright colors and attractive packaging will grab retail customers' attention.

Easy Prep Mini Sweet Pepper Recipes

Mini Sweet Pepper Nachos: Toss the tortilla chips out of the mix and use mini sweet peppers instead, for a fresh crunch. You'll love this low carb option with velvety cheese, black beans and corn.

Bacon Wrapped Mini Sweet Peppers: Who doesn't love a sweet and savory combo? The saltiness from the bacon, fused with sweetness from the peppers, is a flavor combination that pleases the palate and never gets old as a party appetizer.

Hummus Stuffed Mini Sweet Peppers: Whether used as filling or dip, hummus pairs perfectly with peppers and can be used as a substitute for meat. Scoop hummus into pepper halves or simply grab a pepper and dip away, either way is easy and delicious!
